

We provide complex road forwarding services, with extra emphasis placed on tailored transport and logistical solutions according to specific customer needs.

We provide domestic and international transport services for piece, small-vehicle and full-truckload consignments, employing a developed network of partners abroad. International haulage is directly linked to the internal logistics system, comprising both our own and rented warehousing capacity and domestic consignment distribution. Since January 2008, we have been a partner in the distribution network SystemPlus, providing us with the means to offer the express forwarding of consignments across the whole of Europe, with a range of above-standard services available.
